STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin

The Lewiston Journal says Mr C T Nason, of this city, has invented a bammerless gun, which works more successfully than the patents of other manufacturers that have been offered to the public. The hammers are concealed and a movable button shows when the gun is cocked or locked. The object is to prevent the possibility of accidental discharge, which too often happens from the catching of the hammer of a common gun

The annual spring immigration of Canadians has commenced Six families, bringing 40 or 50 persons have arrived within a week.—Lewiston Journal

Gen O O Howard has re considered his determination A telegram has been received from Senator Frye saying that he has induced the General to accept the invitation to deliver the Memorial oration at the dedication of the Auburn soldiers' monument on the 30th of May next Secretary Chandler and Congressman Dingley will be invited to be present

Cumberland

A sailor suffering with the small pox was a passenger on an Old Colony train from Somerset to Boston on Monday, and after reaching that city, he walked to the custom house and into the office of the marine hospital The board of health being notified he was taken to the Canterbury street hospital and is now very sick His name is David Burnham, and he is a native of Brunswick, Me

The Portland Press says Quite a little ripple was created in Judge Bonney's court, Tuesday A man came in with his witnesses to be naturalized The witnesses promptly testified to the applicant's good moral character, and his unswerving obedience to the laws Judge Bonney thought the man's face familiar, and on looking over his docket found he had been up before him eight times for liquor selling He plainly told the applicant his record did not correspond with his oath, and that he could not be naturalized in his court.

An item Brown has kept an account of the fall of snow since January 1st, and finds it to be 5 feet and 6 inches on a level in Gray

Maurice Bachelder aged 10 years, while at play Saturday with other children in the stable of J J S Knight Saccarappa, indulged in the dangerous sport of spinning herself around until she fell to the floor nearly insensible Two physicians have since been in attendance and her case is considered very critical

The Bridgton News says that active preparations are making for the construction of the narrow gauge railroad, and it is intended to have it in running order before next winter

A little girl, seven years of age, named Decoster, fell on York street, Portland Tuesday and cut a dangerous gash in her temple

Hancock

The bar connecting Deer Isle with Little Deer Isle yields annually, clams to the amount of several thousands of dollars, with no apparent diminution of the quantity in the beds W G Sargent & Son, of Sargentville, put up over 1 900 barrels of shucked clams last season mostly dug from this bar

Kennebec

Mr L D. Tasker of Gardiner has been to Aroostook, where he has purchased eight fine driving horses

A slight fire occurred at D T Keene's store Rockland, last Wednesday night, through the stove being accidentally left open, but was extinguished without much harm

Lincoln

Edwin Haggett, of Damariscotta, will build a ship of 1500 tons this season, and another party will build a schooner of 500 tons

The river is free from ice, and vessels are already loading bricks for Boston All the ice companies on the river have suspended operations A large amount of ice has been shipped to New York Norfolk, and other points The houses are all full, but the companies have not filled all their orders for winter shipment

Oxford

The new edifice, just completed for Gould's Academy, Bethel, is the finest school building in Oxford county, the expense of the structure alone was $6 000, and the cost of furnishing will probably amount to $2 000 This building is an ornament to the village and it is well arranged for the purpose for which it is designed.

Caleb Fuller of West Paris, has raised a pair of steers not yet 2 years old, each of which girt 6 feet and 4 inches. The pair weigh about 2 400 pounds. Mr. Fuller was offered $125 for them last week, but he preferred fine stock to money. Cattle men who travel through here, claim that they surpass any cattle of their age they ever saw.

The Paris Hill Manufacturing Co. are doing an immense business in boy's carts, wagons, wheelbarrows, &c Last year their business exceeded $50 000, and the indications are that there will be an increase the coming year, their goods are gaining an excellent reputation and are sent to nearly every State in the Union.

Somerset

The Reporter says Mr J. H. Manderville, of Washington, D C, has been in Bingham the past week in the interests of the Lumber Drivers' Calk Company, investigating an alleged infringement on their patent for the manufacture of their celebrated goods Ephraim Witham, of Carratunk, and Mr Ames, of East Madison, are accused of infringing on the patent. Mr. Manderville went to Portland, Wednesday and filed a bill of injunction in the United States Circuit Court to restrain Mr. Witham from continuing the business. A. G. Blunt, the agent for the Lumber Driver's Calk Company filed an order for 25,000 calks, Wednesday.

Washington.

The driver of the Dennysville stage, in crossing Round Pond Tuesday morning, at 6 o'clock, got his horse through the ice. The horse remained in the water more than half an hour, but was finally got out with the aid of young men who gave assistance, after the driver had waded ashore and told of the accident.

The frozen herring fleet have about all departed from Eastport for home. Several of the vessels returned light, there being little prospect of securing a load this season.

It is reported that a company of forty-eight men has been organized in Jacksonville, for the purpose of capturing the serpent near Chain Lake They are to start for Wesley about the first of April, taking with them quite a number of sheep, swine, calves and dogs, which will be placed in an enclosure prepared for their safe keeping near the track of the serpent. It is expected that the noise made by these animals will awaken his snakeship, and bring him out to face his foes. As the snake rushes for his breakfast a rope will be in readiness to be thrown about his neck and he is captured. The time set for this raid is the most appropriate part of it

The Eastport Sentinel says the old Hayden mansion, now being remodeled and built over for S D Leavitt, Esq, will be when completed one of the finest houses in the place Bay windows have been built upon the front, facing the south, and modern windows replace the old style sashes and glass on all sides. A French roof has also greatly altered the appearance of the house, which was built in 1807 as was shown by the date found upon one of the old steps, which had also the builder's names

As Mr. James Frost of Milltown, was searching for a road in the vicinity of the Tomah Stream on Monday last, he unexpectedly came across a bear's den. Two or more gentlemen were with him and they resolved to make bruin their prisoner They so aggravated the bear as to lead him to come out of his den. Whereupon one man struck furiously at him with his axe, but missed his aim and lost his weapon of defense also The bear man fested much anger, and was advancing very rapidly to the surface when Mr Frost gave him a deadly blow with the poll of his axe but two more blows were required to dispatch him It was soon discovered there were three small cubs in the den These were taken by the men, two of which are now in the possession of Mr Frost They weigh nearly four pounds each and are supposed to be about five weeks old The bear was dressed and weighed about four hundred pounds

THE TWO FOREIGN POLICIES.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

When Mr. Blaine left the State Department three months ago, the Stalwart organs of great and small degree set up a hue and cry against his foreign policy, declared it was reckless, desperate and terrible, and thanked the President for giving to the country a new Secretary whose ways were ways of pleasantness and all whose paths were peace.

What a genuine surprise to the country it was a few days since to hear Mr. Kasson rise in the House, and on behalf of the President, for whom he spoke officially, and on behalf of Mr. Frelinghuysen, for whom he spoke personally, declare that "there had been no definitive change of policy," that "there has been no change in the mind of the President as to the objects to be accomplished." Mr. Kasson grew still more specific, and declared that "the President has never withdrawn the offer of aid of the United States for a settlement between Chili and Peru," and that "he has never essentially changed or definitely withdrawn the proposed assemblage of a conference of American States." In short, Mr. Kasson argues in effect and at some length that the policy of "the late Secretary" and of "the present Secretary" are essentially the same.

Well, then, what was all the row about? Pray tell us, Mr. Kasson, what were the Stalwart organs driving at? What were they denouncing Mr. Blaine for? Is Mr. Kasson prepared to admit, or to be understood as admitting for the Administration, that the raid on Mr. Blaine's foreign policy did not pay, that somehow the country turned up largely on Mr. Blaine's side, and that now the Administration having taken a second view of the case concludes to back about and claim that all the while they were aiming at the same objects for which Mr. Blaine openly and frankly contended? Is Mr. Kasson ready to say that the indecent savagery, the reckless vituperation of the Administration organs against Mr. Blaine were merely "love pats" just to show how sincerely the President and the new Secretary of State approved Mr. Blaine's policy?

Mr. Kasson is not without reputation for being able to balance very cleverly on a ticklish pole, but we fear he has stretched himself a little too far when he attempts to show that Mr. Blaine's foreign policy and Mr. Frelinghuysen's foreign policy are essentially the same. The difference between the two cannot be more clearly shown than by quoting the precise words each Secretary wrote to Mr. Trescott, directing him how to proceed, what to do, and what not to do. On the 1st day of December, under the direction of President Arthur, Mr. Blaine wrote the following instructions to Mr. Trescott, and concerning these words there is no dispute. It is admitted on all hands that the President approved them. Mr. Blaine said:

Should the Chilian Government, while disclaiming any intent on of offence, maintain its right to settle its difficulties with Peru without the friendly intervention of other powers, and refuse to allow the formation of any government in Peru which does not pledge its consent to the cession of Peruvian territory, it will be your duty, in language as strong as is consistent with the respect due an independent power, to express the disappointment and dissatisfaction felt by the United States at such a deplorable policy.

You will say that this Government recognizes without reserve the right of Chili to adequate indemnity for the cost of the war, and a sufficient guarantee that it will not again be subjected to hostile demonstration from Peru; and further, that if Peru is unable or unwilling to furnish such indemnity, the right of obtaining it has put in the power of Chili to supply them, and the reasonable exercise of that right, however much its necessity may be regretted, is not ground of legitimate complaint on the part of other powers. But this Government feels that the exercise of the right of absolute conquest is dangerous to the best interests of all the republics of this continent; that from it are certain to spring other wars and political disturbances; and that it imposes, even upon the conqueror, burdens which are scarcely compensated by the apparent increase of strength which it gives. This Government also holds that between two independent nations, hostilities do not from the mere existence of war, confer the right of conquest until the failure to furnish the indemnity and guarantee which can be rightfully demanded.

The United States maintains, therefore, that Peru has the right to demand that an opportunity should be allowed her to find such indemnity and guarantee. Nor can this Government admit that a cession of territory can be properly exacted far exceeding in value the simplest estimate of a reasonable indemnity.

Already, by force of its occupation, the Chilian Government has collected great sums from Peru; and it has been openly and officially asserted in the Chilian Congress that these military impositions have furnished a surplus beyond the cost of maintaining its armies in that occupation. The annexation of Tarapaca, which, under proper administration, would produce annually a sum sufficient to pay a large indemnity, seems to us to be not consistent with the execution of justice.

The practical prohibition of the formation of a stable government in Peru, and the absolute appropriation of its most valuable territory, is simply the extinction of a State which has formed part of the system of republics on this continent, honorable in the traditions and illustrations of its past history, and rich in the resources for future progress. The United States, with which Peru has for many years maintained the most cordial relations, has the right to feel and express a deep interest in its distressed condition; and while with equal friendliness to Chili we will not interpose to deprive her of the fair advantages of military success, nor put any obstacle to the attainment of future security, we cannot regard with unconcern the destruction of Peruvian nationality. If our good offices are rejected, and this policy of the absorption of an independent State be persisted in, this Government will consider itself discharged from any further obligation to be influenced in its action by the position which Chili has assumed, and will hold itself free to appeal to the other republics of this continent to join it in an effort to avert consequences which cannot be confined to Chili and Peru, but which threaten with extreme danger the political institutions, the peaceful progress, and the liberal civilization of all America.

* * * * * * *

You will not indicate any wish that the Government of the United States should act as umpire in the adjustations between the contending powers. Should an invitation to that effect be extended, you will communicate by telegraph for instructions. The single and simple desire of this Government is to see a just and honorable peace at the earliest day practicable, and if any other American Government can more effectively aid in producing this auspicious result, the United States will cordially sustain it and lend such co-operation as the circumstances may demand.

We have made a long quotation to cover the needful points and give a full view of all that Mr. Blaine proposed in his instruction of December 1, under the direction of the President.

Forty days later, on the 9th of January, under the direction of the President also, Mr. Frelinghuysen swept all the foregoing away by the following prohibition placed on Mr. Trescott. Mr. Frelinghuysen says:

The President wishes in no manner to dictate or make any authoritative utterance to either Peru or Chili as to the merits of the controversy existing between those republics, as to what indemnity should be asked or given, as to change of boundaries, or as to the personnel of the Government of Peru. The President recognizes Peru and Chili to be independent republics, to which he has no right or inclination to dictate.

Mr. Kasson will oblige the public by telling, after this despatch, just what was left for Mr. Trescott to do. Mr. Frelinghuysen, speaking for the President, forbade Mr. Trescott to make even an authoritative utterance touching "the merits of the controversy," or "as to the indemnity to be asked or given," or "as to any change of boundary," or "as to the personnel of the Peruvian Government." In other words, Mr. Frelinghuysen carefully sums up every possible phase of the contention and forbids him to take a single step touching any one of them. Not content with forbidding him to do anything, Mr. Frelinghuysen forbids him to say anything. He must make "no authoritative utterance." He must not commit the United States to anything except that "the President recognizes Peru and Chili to be "independent Republics." As Peru is bound hand and foot, lies bleeding at every pore, her capital and all her ports in the hands of the enemy, her entire territory overrun, her Congress dispersed, her President a prisoner in Chili, and the Chilians collecting and appropriating all her revenues, it must be a profound gratification to that prostrate country to receive from Mr. Trescott the assurance of Mr. Frelinghuysen that the President regards her as an "independent Republic." To achieve so gigantic a feat of diplomacy it was worth while to send a special Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary ten thousand miles over sea and land.

And now having solemnly marched him up the hill it only remains to march him down again.

By the way, does Mr. Kasson see any difference in the instructions issued by Mr. Blaine and Mr. Frelinghuysen?

GARFIELD'S DEFAMERS.

[From the Chicago Inter-Ocean (Stalwart Rep.)]

The article which lately appeared in the Washington Post against General Garfield is cowardly and shameful in the extreme. We care not who the author may be, or what position he has hitherto held, the man who will assail a President like him, who six months ago fell a martyr to the assassin's bullet is a moral coward, who forfeits the respect of decent men. What matters the attempted justification of such an attack on the ground that the pretended friends of General Garfield have made the first attack and are continuing it? Have they themselves no vulnerable points? Cannot the author of this screed find in them a fitting foe? Must he perforce exhibit his courage by attacking one who has passed beyond the vain bickerings of life? One is lost in disgust and indignation at the contemplation of such contemptible littleness.

[From the Albany Journal.]

His enemies, having failed to bulldoze Gen. Garfield while living are now trying to blacken his memory when dead. Any living donkey can kick a dead lion, but only a very vindictive and exceptionally long eared donkey will do it.

[From the Courier-Journal.]

But that Garfield's letter to Chase, which was straightforward and intelligent, was a breach of trust can only be shown on the hypothesis that a chief of staff is an unthinking slave and bound to obey and serve his master with the docility of a dog. This Garfield was not, and the effort of the Conkling crowd to have him appear so is as stupid as it is malignant and mean. It will in the end assuredly recoil upon its authors. In the mean time Gen. Rosecrans would do well to look to his laurels, and leave to ghouls the execrable business of desecrating graves.

THE LEADER OF THE HOUSE.

A PITTSBURG PAPER LOOKING TO MAINE FOR HIM.

[Special to the Commercial Gazette.]

The fact that the Republicans in the House are still without a recognized leader is a matter of no small concern in view of the approaching contest over the Tariff Commission bill. A popular leader is always highly advantageous to a party, and particularly so when there is but a small and uncertain majority. Mr. Kasson, of Iowa, was generally regarded as the one most likely to develop into a leader, but there seems to be a lack of confidence in him which operates against his procuring that following which is essential to successful leadership. He has long experience and decided ability as a parliamentarian, but he is not regarded as in entire accord with his party on all questions, and the fear that he might lead them astray will prevent a number of the members from giving him their confidence.

Mr. Robeson, of New Jersey, has some of the elements of leadership, but falls so far short in others that he will not attain to that distinction. He is not as alert and wary as Kasson and does not possess that degree of popularity which is essential to sway the vote of his party. His abilities as a Speaker and his steadfastness as a Republican are not questioned, but still he has failed to attract any considerable number of followers. Neither he nor Kasson are lacking in that general respect and influence to which their peculiar abilities entitle them, but they have thus far been unable to rise to the height of leadership.

Mr. Reed, of Maine, is, in the opinion of not a few members, the coming man, and will more nearly approach the standard of Blaine or Garfield than any other member of the House. He is a forcible and earnest speaker, a fair parliamentarian, and never fails to command attention when he addresses the House. He always speaks to the point, never speaks for the sake of talking, and quits when he has fully presented his argument. He has a good deal of personal magnetism, is affable and courteous, and is rapidly growing in the esteem and confidence of his fellow Republicans. He is ten years younger than Robeson and fourteen years younger than Kasson, having just turned forty-three. While it is true that leaders cannot be made to order, but must obey the laws of natural development, still some grow with much greater rapidity than others, and Mr. Reed seems to belong to this class. It would not be surprising, therefore, if another son of Maine should achieve the distinction of leader of the House.

What has become of that wise Augusta correspondent of the Commercial who hinted at terrible disasters that were to overtake the Republican party in that city on account of the appointment of Hon. J. E. Manley as Postmaster? The result of the election does not seem to indicate that the appointment of one of the most courteous, enterprising and competent officers in the country has weakened Republicanism at the State Capital, and as the opposition papers sought to make that an issue, we congratulate Postmaster Manley that at the first election after his appointment the Republicans carried every Ward in Augusta and elected their Mayor by 458 majority.

John Chamberlain's club house in Washington, a notorious gambling house, has been bought by the Young Men's Christian Association, which will use it as a reading room, gymnasium and lecture room.

JUDGE LIBBEY.

THE AROOSTOOK BAR UNANIMOUSLY EXPRESS DESIRE FOR HIS REAPPOINTMENT.

At the regular meeting of the Aroostook Bar Association, held on Friday, March 10th, 1882, the following resolutions were reported by the committee heretofore appointed, and the same were by vote unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Aroostook Bar, hereby express our confidence in the ability, integrity and impartiality of Hon. Artemus Libbey, exhibited in his career as Judge of the Supreme Judicial Court of this State, and our admiration of the eminently happy manner in which he has presided at the many terms of court that he has held in this county.

Resolved, That we earnestly desire his reappointment to that office, and that he long continue in the discharge of the duties of the position, which he has so well and satisfactorily filled.

And it was ordered, that the Bar Secretary be instructed to present a copy of the resolutions and vote Judge Libbey, and prepare copies for publication in the local papers.

HANDSOME COMPLIMENTS.

The very many friends of Rev. Newman Smyth, formerly Pastor of the First Parish Congregation of this city, will be much pleased by the high compliment paid him in the invitation to the Professorship at Andover, Mass., and also in the resolutions of endorsement adopted by his church society at Quincy, Illinois, and the warm editorial commendation of the Whig of that city, which we republish elsewhere.

NEW MAGAZINES.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for April is a strikingly beautiful and interesting Number. It contains two full-page illustrations printed separately on heavy paper—one, which is placed as a frontispiece to the Number, from a drawing by C. S. Reinhart, illustrating Mr. Lathrop's Spanish Vistas; the other, a fine portrait of Mr. Gladstone.

The Number opens with the first of a series of papers entitled Spanish Vistas, by George P. Lathrop, with sixteen beautiful illustrations by Reinhart.

Mr. H. W. Lucy's paper, Mr. Gladstone at Hawarden, with seven illustrations besides the portrait of Mr. Gladstone, is a familiar sketch of the English Premier and his home surroundings, and will be read with eager interest on both sides of the Atlantic.

Mr. Abbey contributes a full-page illustration of Herrick's poem, To an Old Woman.

In Silver San Juan, Ernest Ingersoll describes an interesting corner of Colorado, and one of the richest mineral fields in that State. The article is illustrated from twelve superb drawings by Thomas Moran.

Prof. B. L. Gildersleeve contributes an interesting paper on Pheidias' masterpiece, the Athena Parthenos, with an illustration of the statuette recently discovered at Athens.

The first of two papers on Wood-Engraving, by G. E. Woodbury, is devoted to the early history of the art. His theory respecting the legitimate province of wood-engraving is the subject of an interesting comment by the Editor's Easy Chair. The article is illustrated from facsimiles of old engravings.

David D. Lloyd contributes an exceedingly humorous sketch, entitled Poor Ossa Moga, a satire upon the treatment of the Indian Question by the ultra-sentimentalists, with six characteristic illustrations by Frost.

The recent developments in Decorative Art form the subject of a paper by A. F. Oakey, illustrated from specimens of work by Coleman, La Farge, Tiffany, Shirlaw, and others.

An interesting romance in real life during the last century is presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Read, with portraits of the hero and heroine, from old miniatures.

N. H. Egleston contributes an important paper, entitled, What We Owe to the Trees.

Miss Woolson's Anne, which has awakened greater interest than any serial story ever published in this country, is approaching its conclusion. Miss Lillie's Prudence—a story of Æsthetic London, is concluded. An interesting short story, entitled A Hereditary Witness, is contributed by N. A. Prentiss. This Number contains an unusual quantity of excellent poetry, contributed by Frances L. Mace, Louise Chandler Moulton, Julia C. R. Dorr, Nora Perry, and J. W. De Forrest.

As usual, some of the most interesting matter in the Number is to be found in Mr. Curtis' department, the Easy Chair. The other Editorial Departments are well sustained. In particular, the Drawer contains some very entertaining contributions, among which may be mentioned Rose Hawthorne Lathrop's poem, Used Up; another poem, by L. M. Gregory, entitled A Modern Witch; and How Omens are Verified, by J. H. Williams, of the Norristown Herald.

NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW. In the North American Review for April, Gov. Eli H. Murray, of Utah, treats of the existing crisis in the political fortunes of that Territory. According to the present method of local government there, the minority of the population, the Gentiles, though they possess the greater part of the wealth of the Territory, exclusive of farm property, and though they constitute by far the most enlightened and enterprising portion of the community are practically without a voice in legislation. The author proposes a drastic yet efficient yet practicable remedy for these and all the other evils prevalent in Utah. An article entitled Why they Come, by Edward Self, is devoted to the consideration of the many important questions connected with European immigration to this country. Dr. Henry A. Martin, replying to a recent article by Henry Bergh, defends the practice of vaccination, citing official statistics to prove the efficacy of bovine virus as a prophylactic against the scourge of small-pox. E. L. Godkin has an article on The Civil Service Reform Controversy; Senator Riddleberger on Bourbonism in Virginia; and Gen. Albert Ordwaylon A National Militia. Finally there is a paper of extraordinary interest on the exploration of the ruined cities of Central America. The author, Mr. Charnay, has discovered certain monuments which conclusively prove the comparative recentness of those vast remains of a lost civilization. The Review is published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York, and is sold by booksellers and newsdealers generally.

The elections in this State on Monday last are as little calculated to give aid and comfort to the Fusion party, as were those of the preceding Monday. Bangor, which last year elected Lysander Strickland a Republican, Mayor by only 22 majority, elects the same gentleman this year by a majority of 884, and carries four of the seven wards in the city. Not much of an indorsement of Gov. Plaisted, and his Fusion friends. In Augusta the result must be equally disheartening for them, as the Republicans re-elected Mayor Vickery by 458 majority, the largest for years, and more than all that, elected every candidate on their ticket, even to the constables. Prosperous times have never been favorable to die-gruntled parties, whose only principles are to find fault and breed discontent.—Ellsworth American.

The Montreal Evening Post has charged Francis B. McNamee, a leading contractor, with having introduced peonism into Canada, and has a fifty thousand dollar libel suit on its hands.

AN INDEMNITY.

A life policy is to be regarded as an indemnity against the calamity of premature death. Attempts to endow it with the qualities of an ordinary investment are illusive. STEAM GANG SAW MILLS AND TIMBER LANDS FOR SALE.—These well known Steam Gang Saw Mills, situated in Sheepscot Harbor, on the site of the Secoyl Mills. The Mills are now, having been rebuilt in 1878, and include a first class Gang, Edger and Trimmer complete; a Single Saw and Edger, Lath Machine, Boiler, Sawdust Chain, &c., &c. The Engine is very powerful, 24 inch cylinder, 4 foot stroke, with an auxiliary Engine for running of 8 inch cylinder. The Main building 128 feet by 40 feet, two stories, very roomy, with hoisting works for engine, boilers and furnaces attached, giving large room and power for additional machinery. They were running last season and are in good order.

These Mills are the only ones in the Sheepscot Harbor, and very conveniently situated for shipping, as also for obtaining and securing logs, of which a plentiful supply is to be had. In connection are extensive piling wharves, booms, laborers' houses, store, etc., etc., and altogether they comprise one of the most valuable mill properties in this Province.

Also—at least 8,000 Acres of Land, which I will sell with the Mills, or will sell the right of stumpage.

I will sell for immediate delivery, or otherwise, as may be arranged, if for immediate delivery would have to include the logs I may have purchased. For further particulars apply to W. J. M. HARRINGTON, Sheffield, N. B.

FOREIGN EVENTS CONGRESS First Session

Senate

WASHINGTON March 17 Mr Pendleton from the committee on Foreign Relations reported with amendment the Senate bill for the relief of Capt Owner, and the bill for the relief of the late U S private Joseph Armstrong

Mr Miller reported for the Committee on Finance a joint resolution appropriating $1000 for presentation at the Exposition at Amsterdam in 1883

Petitions were offered by Mr Aldrich from the Secretary of War for estimates for the purchase of the Providence Journal and Post with 300 feet in addition for low water, also as to the cost expended on and improvements during the present fiscal year

Mr Hoar from the Committee on Engrossed Bills reported that they had examined and found correctly enrolled the bill to provide for the payment of Sarah Conover for services as a scout and found it to be a law

Mr Hoar from the Committee on Claims reported back the bill for the relief of Mrs Esther and $7000 to Wm Pitt Kellogg for the balance of the expenses necessarily incurred by them in defence of the seats claimed on the calendar of Nov 1880

The remainder of the morning business was the calendar An order introduced by Mr Brown declaring against the issue of the currency by the withdrawal of silver certificates etc, was referred to the Finance Committee without debate

Mr Allison, May 24

Senate then took up the order of the morning being the bill to aid in the construction of certain railroads in Nebraska, Dakota, Montana and Idaho

Mr Conkling moved that the morning business be dispensed with and that the Senate resume consideration of the Chinese bill, promising he would call the previous question to morrow at three o'clock Mr Rice of Mass objected Mr Pendleton made a motion that all be laid to obtain a vote by two thirds vote The Speaker proceeded to call on the Committees for matters of a private character

At the conclusion of the morning hour Mr Frye at 12 to P M went into Committee of the Whole Mr Rich of Mich in the chair, on the private calendar for the consideration of several bills Calendar the Committee rose and reported to the House a bill authorizing Dabney and Bayard to accept a medal from the French republic, and a communication was received from the Secretary of war transmitting estimates of number of persons made destitute by the Mississippi floods The communication makes the number at 50 000 as follows Missouri 2 200, Illinois 2000, Kansas 500, Tennessee 5000 Mississippi 500 Arkansas 20 000 Louisiana, and United States 713,000 rations have been distributed

The communication further says that the work already made is sufficient to save 500 000 rations of a substantial character and estimates that the supply will be needed in Arkansas, Missouri, and Louisiana about the 21st No estimate can be made of the time during which necessity will exist and will continue

By unanimous consent it was ordered that the consideration of to-morrow should be for debate only on the Chinese bill and then

MEXICO

The First Train

NEW YORK March 17 A Laredo letter March 8th says that the crossing of the Rio Grande river, into Mexico over a new bridge by the first railway train, on that day was made the occasion of a turnout of Mexican civil and military dignitaries and was a great rejoicing The train was greeted with American and Mexican flags and contained Gen Sherman and others

On arriving on the Mexican side guns were fired, bells rung the band of the 21st Mexican Infantry played "See the conquering hero comes," "Hail Columbia" and "The Mexican Anthem" Gen Sherman was greeted with great enthusiasm by Mexican officers and people, and conducted to a commanding knoll and held an informal reception, after which, amid the firing of salutes, he returned to the American side of the Rio Grande.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.

A Bill to Increase the Capital Passed

BOSTON March 17 The Committee on Railroads in the House, to-day reported favorably a bill authorizing the Eastern Railroad Company to increase the capital stock $ 900 000 in one hundred dollar shares, preferred stock to be exchanged for the certificates of indebtedness which are to be cancelled. The bill limits the annual payments upon the preferred stock to six dollars per share.

THE WEATHER.

War Dep't, Office Chief Signal Office, Washington, D.C., March 18—(1 A. M.)

Indications.

For New England: Fair weather; followed during the afternoon or evening by increasing cloudiness and snow or rain; northeast to southeast winds; lower barometer, slight fall followed by rising temperature, cautionary signals from Macon to section B.

97,000 SPINDLES IDLE

THE LAWRENCE STRIKE.

LAWRENCE, Mass, March 17 The strike of ring spinners in the Pacific Mills is not easing Today, after they received their pay, 35 in the lower Pacific Mill, stopping 87 frames; they allege as the cause that the Pacific authorities ordered the boarding house keepers not to board strikers from the upper mill. Matters are at fever heat A more general strike in other departments is feared this afternoon. The strikers are now holding a meeting in City Hall basement

Later.

The entire cotton spinning force of the Central Pacific have just struck, stopping 13,300 spindles and 87 frames. A meeting of strikers is now being held in the City Hall addressed by Peter McCarthy, editor of the Catholic Herald. Great excitement prevails

97,000 Spindles Idle

The strikers of to-day in the lower mill number 70 and 97 000 spindles are now idle. The strikers at the mill received pay for 1 st month this forenoon, together with a discharge from the employ of the corporation Boarding house keepers have been notified that the spinners are not to work and as none are given board in the corporation houses unless employed in the mills the striking spinners must find new places In this action by the mill authorities may be attributed the

this afternoon as the spinners here made no complaint when they received notice of the proposed reduction in wages, but to day as they left the mill they said they would not return to work as long as the order excluding strikers from the corporation house was in effect The strikers met after dinner at the basement of City Hall Over 200 were present and were orderly and attentive to the words of Editor McCarthy of the Catholic Herald, who had been invited to address them as to what course they should pursue He spoke at some length first advising them not to

but when the Central Pacific spinners broke into the room announcing they had joined the strike he said "If I were one of you I would stand out until I dropped dead" He counselled the appointment of a committee to wait on the Superintendent, to state their grievance demand redress and if none are given, then to persist to the bitter end He promised them sub-sidies and When put to vote the strikers unanimously decided to continue the strike, also voted to have a mass meeting on the Common to-morrow afternoon, to which all operatives in the city will be invited A committee of the strikers called to see Superintendent Parker this afternoon but that gentleman stated he did not want to see them It is reported to night that the strike tomorrow It is extremely doubtful what course the Pacific authorities have decided upon If the strikers return to work Monday it is understood they will be received but must conform to the rules Thus, the spinners say, they will not do but will organize, appeal to the spinners in other localities to keep away from Lawrence and furnish aid to keep the strike in progress The spinners hold a private consultation to night making arrangements for the mass meeting

The Latest

There is little doubt, according to the latest developments, that the Pacific mills will not close at the close of working hours to morrow It is also stated that the manufacturers deem it, in the present condition of the market for their best interest to close the mills for an indefinite time

FROM WASHINGTON.

General News.

Personal

WASHINGTON, March 17 Representative Black is confined at a late hour to night was less favorable than last night and fears were entertained that he would not live through the night Representative Allen is some worse to night He suffered from a relapse and hemorrhage during the afternoon

CONNECTICUT

Serious Loss by Fire.

NEW HAVEN, March 17. Early this morning Kunald's gin distillery, at Grapevine Point, was burned, loss on the building $5 000, on the machinery and stock, $2 000, insurance $10 000 Supposed to be incendiary Another alarm was given at about 2 30 A M, an hour later, and before the engines were called away from Grapevine Point, the third alarm since midnight was caused by the burning of Calvary Baptist Church; it was gutted, the steeple and walls are standing. The church was built 15 years ago and cost about $100 000 The damage by fire is from $50 000 to $75 000, insurance about $50 000 The pastor of the church is the Rev I S Simson, his is also supposed to have been incendiary.

MASSACHUSETTS

A Fast Mail

BOSTON, March 17 The Journal says the increase voted in Congress yesterday from $600,000 to $650 000 for transportation facilities, means an important addition to the service between Boston and New York On and after July 1st, Boston mails will reach New York at 8 A M and will be distributed before all others This will be accomplished by putting on a fast mail train leaving Boston at 9 30 in the evening, this will carry nothing but mails, clerks on the cars will classify the letters enroute and there will no longer be the possibility of missing the first New York delivery

MICHIGAN.

A Rascally Mayor

DETROIT, March 17. Further disclosures of the absconding mayor, Thomas Navin, are coming to light Forge mortgages appeared this forenoon when the mortgagee undertook to collect the interest on one of $4000 and the other for $1000 Navin pretended to act as the agent for parties and thus affected the swindle

PENNSYLVANIA.

Small Pox Scourge

PHILADELPHIA, March 17 A special from Bethlehem Pa, says notwithstanding the semi official denial of the existence of a small pox scourge here the fact is fully one hundred and fifty cases have sprung into existence in a few days in South Bethlehem, and much excitement prevails. Business is generally suspended, though the disease is at its height

SMALL POX ON A VESSEL

Unable to Get Assistance

NEW LONDON, March 17. The British brig Vigo, Capt Merline, put into harbor here about two weeks ago, with two cases of small pox, one the captain City Physician Holborn has been in daily attendance on the cases until yesterday and to day when all the boatmen refused to go out to the vessel, the President of the Thames Tow Boat Company placed a tug at the disposal of the physician but no crew could be found to go near the infected vessel This evening the Vigo signalled to Signal Officer Lyndon that medical assistance was wanted. From what he could decipher it is probable one of the crew is dead Efforts are now being made to get assistance

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

St Patrick's Day was generally observed throughout the country yesterday.

Reports from the flooded districts still continue to describe scenes of great destitution.

The entire incoming eastern night mail at the Madison, Wis., post-office, consisting of about 2000 letters, was burned yesterday morning.

Gov. E. D. Morgan, of New York, has given Williams College $80,000 with which to build a new dorm tory.

The Paris Hill Manufacturing Co, are doing an immense business in boy's carts, wagons, wheelbarrows, &c. Last year their business exceeded $850,000, and the indications are that there will be an increase the coming year; their goods are gaining an excellent reputation, and are sent to nearly every State in the Union.

REV NEWMAN SMYTH

HIS INVITATION TO THE PROFESSORSHIP AT ANDOVER

[From the Quincy (Ill.) Whig]

On Saturday, the Boston papers announced the election of Rev Newman Smyth, of this city to the chair of Christian Theology in Andover Theological Seminary This announcement was also made by Mr. Smyth from his pulpit, on Sunday Those who are acquainted with the history and high standing of Andover Seminary, as a school, both of literature and of theology, need not be told that his election to the chair of theology in that old institution is a most conspicuous compliment to Mr. Smyth, as a scholar and a theologian. And aside from any consideration personal to Mr. Smyth, his election to the position in question is an event of uncommon significance, theologically considered.

From the time of its foundation till now, Andover Seminary has been the very embodiment of conservatism in all that related to theological teaching On the other hand, as is well known, not only in the pulpit, but more especially in the books he has produced Mr Smyth has taken what has been deemed an advanced position in the theological field Not that he has been at all sensational, or iconoclastic in what he has advanced, or in his methods of advancing his views Without departing in the least from the fundamental principles of Christianity, he has simply recognized the fact that not creeds and dogmas that were adapted to a past age were not adapted to the present age, and that orthodox creeds of the past were in need of revision. In short he has simply recognized the fact that theology was made for the church and not the church for theology.

Nor have the Andover authorities called Mr Smyth to their chair of theology upon the impulse of the moment. On the contrary, it has been a matter of protracted, cautious and careful deliberation, and the views enunciated in his published volumes have been subjected to a most critical scrutiny. It follows, there are that in his election to the Andover chair of theology Mr Smyth's theological views have been endorsed by the very highest orthodox authority in the land; certainly by the highest in the denomination the seminary represents As we have said, this must be accepted as an event of no slight significance in the economy of theology.

Should Mr. Smyth accept the important position tendered him he will succeed Prof Phelps, a man of distinguished talent and ripe scholarship, who retires voluntarily from the Andover theological chair by reason of his advanced age. But Mr Smyth has not yet decided to accept the place that has been offered him, although he will go east this week to confer with the Andover people. It is much to be hoped, however, consequential as the compliment is that has been paid him at the east that Mr. Smyth will choose to consider the west as his proper field of labor and that he may long remain a citizen of Quincy. His departure would certainly be, not only an infinite loss to the church of which he is pastor but a loss equally to be regretted by the whole city, which shares the honor conferred upon him by Andover.

CORDIAL ENDORSEMENT.

At a business meeting of the First Presbyterian church and society of this city, held last evening, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted

Whereas, Notice has been given to this church and congregation by our pastor that he has been elected professor of theology in Andover theological seminary, the acceptance of which will involve his removal from this city,

And Whereas, We believe that the city of Quincy as well as the Presbyterian church can poorly afford to lose the services and influence of a man of his high character and talents. Therefore,

Resolved, That this church and congregation would sincerely regret any action either by pastor or people which might result in his removal from this city.

Resolved, That this church fully appreciates the labors of the pastor, not only in his faithful pulpit ministrations to his people, but in his efforts to raise the standard of religion in the community And also gratefully recognize his sympathy and more substantial aid in our struggles to secure, unencumbered by debt, our present beautiful house of worship

Resolved, That we earnestly desire that the relations which have existed between pastor and people during the past seven years shall remain unchanged.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the pastor.

Meetings will be held this afternoon and evening, and Mr. Park will also preach Sunday morning and night.

FIRE RECORD. During the past municipal year there have occurred in Bangor only twenty-six fires and alarms and of this number only eleven have been fires where any loss was entailed. The above record is a most remarkable one and it would be difficult to find in the history of our city a year which will compare with it. During the previous year the fires and alarms numbered forty-six, and that has been about the average number for several years.

A GOOD JOKE. On a recent rainy day a Bangorean seeing a man ahead of him whom he thought a friend, with a silk umbrella hoisted over his head, rushed up to him, clapped his hand on his shoulder, and shouted by way of a joke: "I'll take that umbrella, if you please." The individual addressed looked around and disclosed an entire stranger, but before the other could apologize he said, hurriedly: "Oh, it's yours is it! We, I didn't know that. Here, you can have it," and broke away, carrying the umbrella in his hand.

BRADFORD ITEMS —Our correspondent from Bradford writes. Mystic Tie Lodge, I. O. of G. T, gave an entertainment at their hall, at Bradford Centre, last Tuesday evening, to a large and appreciative audience. The programme consisted of Declamations, Readings, Dialogues, Tableaux, &c., interspersed with music At the close an excellent supper was served at the residence of Mr. Isaac Libby. The net proceeds of the evening were $28 27 ——During the year ending March 6, 1882 thirty-eight terms of school were taught in this town, divided as follows Spring terms 3, Summer terms, 13; Fall terms, 10, Winter terms, 12 ——Sleighing in this vicinity is now as good as at any time during the winter

PERSONAL.—Samuel P. Poland, of Brunswick, entered the Scientific Department of Bowdoin College in 1880, giving his attention largely to engineering. When Prof Vose left in 1881, instruction in the department was suspended, and Mr. Poland left and entered the Institute of Technology, in Boston, remaining under the direction of Prof. Vose, he continued in the Institute until a week or two since when he left, and on Monday last entered the office of Col. Waring, in Newport, R I, where for the present he will do office work. This is the sixth or seventh Bowdoin man Col Waring has employed, always speaking highly of their attainments. Mr. Poland is a beautiful draughtsman and is now in business which he likes, and in which we are convinced he will win success and a good reputation.—Brunswick Telegraph

WINN NOTES. Our correspondent "Nopen" furnishes the following items: N R. Houston has leased the big island of the Five Islands, just above Winn Village, for ten years, and is getting timber on to it for a barn 32 feet square which he is about to erect. It is Mr. Houston's intention to cut hay for awhile and then convert the island into a sheep pasture It contains about 20 acres and is very good land ——The Winn Amateur Dramatic society, J. D Stanwood, Manager, plays "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," on the evening of Thursday, March 23d, at the Town Hall. Very good local talent is embraced in the Society. A new town meeting is called on Saturday, the 26th, at 10 A. M, to transact certain business not properly attended to at the regular town meeting——Considerable ship-timber is being hauled out to H P. Pingree, of East Winn and will be sawed and then shipped over the E & N. A. R

CATHOLIC ENTERTAINMENT. St. Patrick's Day was appropriately celebrated in this city by an entertainment in Norombega Hall last evening by the pupils of the Catholic schools The occasion was one of much moment in Catholic circles and at the hour appointed for commencement of the exercises old Norombega was thronged with an audience which filled all the seats and peopled nearly all possible standing room. The assemblage was one of the largest which has ever assembled in the hall to attend an entertainment, and numbered about eleven hundred persons. St. John's Band was present and discoursed music. The programme embraced choruses, solos, duets, quintettes, recitations, the drama "The Arts Paying Homage to Columbia," Branigan's Band, Broom Drill and the farce "Aunt Susanna's Mistake. The various pieces were all creditably rendered. Miss Cushing and Miss Cannon sang solos very sweetly and Miss Jennie McPhee is also deserving of mention. Some two hundred young persons appeared on the stage at one time.

Police Court.

Samuel Burt, colored, was brought before Judge Brett, yesterday, on a complaint of a prominent citizen for sundry threats which it was alleged had been made. The prisoner was put under bonds of $300 to keep the peace, and having obtained the security was discharged.

CITY AFFAIRS.

Closing Session of the Present City Government.

The final meeting of the present municipal year was held by the City Council last evening and the following business transacted

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The annual reports of the several departments were presented and referred to the next City Council.

The Treasurer submitted a statement of the finances of the City at close of present year.

This report gives the total expenditures for the year as $298 593 24, and appropriations and credits $304,310 62, leaving an unexpended balance of $11,099 31, and over drawn balances of $5 382 03, making the unexpended balance $5,717 28. The balance of cash in the Treasury is nearly $24,000, or about $2,500 more than the amount on hand at the beginning of the year

The business of the year being thus completed, Alderman Kelleher, with brief remarks, presented the following Resolve which was unanimously passed.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Board be and are hereby tendered to Hon Lysander Strickland, for the dignity and impartiality which has characterized the discharge of his duties as presiding officer of this Board, and for his uniform courtesy to its members during the past year.

Mayor Strickland responded in appropriate and pleasing remarks, and Alderman Kelleher then presented a Resolve of thanks to the Clerk for the faithful and efficient manner in which he has discharged the arduous and responsible duties of his office the past year, which was unanimously passed.

The Board then adjourned sine die.

IN COMMON COUNCIL.

The following resolution was presented by Councilman Rogers, of Ward Two, and was adopted unanimously

Resolved, That the City Council extend with pleasure their thanks to the President of the Board for the able, impartial and non partisan manner with which he has conducted his arduous duties, and on his retirement he carries with him the good will and respect of the individual members of this Board and may the policy on himself never expire in our day, and may he experience Fair weather as well as Fairbanks in the voyage of life.

Henry N. Fairbanks, Esq, President of the Common Council, then made the following response

Gentlemen of the Common Council

Our work is done our record for the year is made, and by it our constituents have judged and will judge us. You have been able and earnest representatives of your several wards, and have legislated for the city as a whole I have watched your deliberations all through the year, and do not hesitate to say, that I believe each member has labored for the accomplishment of only such measures as in his opinion were right, proper and for the best interests of the city Men differ very much in judgment, and when there is not sufficient reason adduced to prove to the contrary, each member should hold the title, and enjoy the reputation of having acted honestly

You have carefully attended to the routine of our city affairs—passed and amended ordinances The question of extending the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad to Moosehead Lake which has been so long a fertile theme for discussion by former City Councils, has occupied much of your time, and has been earnestly and anxiously deliberated Under the direction of the City Government, street paving has been put upon trial for the first time, the measure having its origin in this body. This is doubtless a proper movement in the direction of economy and its continuation should obtain the serious consideration of future City Governments.

The duty of meeting with you as your servant has been a pleasant one. Long shall I remember your faces, the seats you have severally occupied, and the kindness, forbearance and favors you have conferred upon me. For all, accept the earnest thanks of your President.

And to us as individuals, we have the lesson of life before us. Sooner or later all of us will be asked to pay the great debt of natural law by death. When we assembled, nearly one year since, our number was twenty one; all seemed alike in the enjoyment of good health But now how changed? Two of our members have been sought out by the all devouring scythe of Time, and have been cut down, and their voices are hushed in the unknown realm of Eternity. They were constant and attentive co workers with us, continuing faithful at their posts of duty until health and strength would no longer permit. This may properly remind us how important it is that we act well our parts as good citizens and useful members of society, for good local government is but the reflex of good fellowship. The responsibility in this particular, I fear, is not generally and sufficiently understood.

From this body, let us take only the best of fellow-feeling for each other, which has been a marked feature of this Common Council I have only the best and kindest regards for each of you and wish only the highest and noblest may attend you your families in the future walks of life

For the honor you have shown me, the favors bestowed, I again thank you It now becomes my duty as the last official act, to declare this Common Council adjourned without date.

OBITUARY

Death of Mr Edwin A Lynde

A telegram brings us the sad news of the death of Mr Edwin A Lynde, the oldest son of the late John H Lynde, of this city, which occurred at Waterville yesterday forenoon, after a brief sickness with typhoid fever. He had the devoted care of a loving mother to the end, and the utmost sympathy will be felt for her in this second affliction following so soon after the distressing accident which bereaved her of a younger son

Edwin A was only twenty eight years of age. He passed his youth here and learned the printer's trade in this office. After his father's death he engaged in business out side of the State, but returned and married in Maine, after which he purchased the Presque Isle Sharpse, and conducted it for several years prior to its suspension. At the time of his sickness he had engaged in the printing business at the office of the Waterville Sentinel, and Mr Robinson, the proprietor, has been unremitting in his attention to the sufferer. The deceased was well known here as a bright and generous hearted lad who went away before he had fully reached manhood, and this third death in the family within eight years will be learned with sadness by a wide circle of friends. The deceased leaves a widow and one young child The remains will be brought to this city to-day and the funeral will be held at the residence of Mr. E. F. Dillingham on French st., at 2 P M. Sunday.

FROM AROOSTOOK

Monticello Notes

Splendid weather during the past two or three days, while owing to recent snows the roads are in excellent condition, consequent y a large amount of teaming is being done. Wednesday morning, a gentleman coming to this place, reports meeting seventy loaded teams between Houlton and a point six miles north.

The spring term of the Monticello High School is now in session in District No. 2, under the instruction of D. S. Jones, of Linneus. Twenty-four pupils attend.

Wednesday morning, John Lawless while sawing shingles in the Hogan & Ketchum mill, accidentally brought his hand in contact with the saw, instantly cutting off his forefinger and splitting open the second finger. He was taken to Houlton for treatment.

The Union Comedy Company recently gave an entertainment at "Gaiety Hall." Their efforts to please were well received.

Thomas Melvin, the much married man, seems to be in Clearfield, Penn., as his letters are sent to that place. He evidently wants to get where the New Brunswick kidnappers will not molest or make afraid.

Wednesday night, the Rev. C. S Pitcher was donated to the amount of $23 00, and the Rev. Mr Smith to the amount of $10.50.

Aroostook Republicans send congratulations to Bangor for so neatly laying out that bogus reformer and renegade, Charles P. Brown. No tears are shed for him here.

Organization of Post James E. Hall No 53, of Bucksport

A large delegation of the comrades of Post Beale led by Post Commander Crossman, S. V. C. Clayton and J. V. C Peakes, and accompanied by Department Commander Farnham, Asst. Adjt Gen. Foster, Asst. Q M Gen. Jordan and Chief Mustering Officer Rollins, visited Bucksport last evening to assist in organizing the new Grand Army Post there named for Lieutenant James E. Hall, of Co. G, 18th Maine, who was killed in the charge on Petersburg, June 18, 1864.

Quite a large number of veterans enrolled themselves and were duly received into membership of the G. A. R, after which the new Post was formally organized and the officers were installed by Department Commander Farnham as follows

George H. Snowman,	P C
Eben B. More,	S V C
Thomas B Luce,	J V C.
Amasa L. Conant,	P. Q M.
Edwin F. Hill,	Adjt
W C. Collins,	Sergt
Theodore Gerrish,	Chap
E O Colson,	O D
C D. Bridges	O G I.

The new Post starts under favorable auspices and it is hoped that its membership will be made to include the greater number of the veterans in that vicinity.

The Bangor comrades returned after the installation by a special train which had been accommodatingly provided by Superintendent Lincoln of the Bucksport & Bangor R R.

THE CHARLESTON ELECTION

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

I see by the Daily WHIG that your correspondent states that the Republicans of this town gained a splendid victory in our last Monday s election. It is true that the Republicans got five out of the eight officers elected by ballot, and your correspondent no doubt reported as he understood it, but in justice to all parties I wish to state the facts and let the public judge for themselves

The straight-Greenbackers put in nomination a straight ticket. The Republicans, then in caucus, put in nomination a straight Republican ticket Then the Mixed crowd, or Fusionists, as the call stated, all those who supported Gov. Plaisted's administrations, met in caucus and endorsed two of the straight Greenback nominees, taking another Greenbacker for second Selectman and a straight Democrat for third Selectman. This mixture did not suit the straight Democrats and they put in nomination a straight Democratic ticket, except Supervisor, endorsing for that office the Republican nomination, and with the above, four parties went into the fight. After one unsuccessful ballot for Moderator, it becoming evident to some that if all parties were stubborn it would take several days to decide the matter, the straight Democrats and Republicans made a compromise, giving the Republicans the Moderator, First Selectman, Treasurer and Supervisor.

I make this statement, as the report gave, by inference, a wrong impression I wish to do justice to all parties, as all parties had in nomination most excellent men The Republicans could not have won without aid from one or the other factions, and they chose the straight Democrats.

A ROBIN'S NEST

BY REBECCA M. PIERLE

Twas a lovely summer time,
On the old tree they built there,
And worked, and sang, in happy rhyme,
Two robins, a contented pair.
On the bare bough, reclined to an I ire,
That little nest is full of snow

Long were the conferences held
Beneath my window, every day
Together, on a place to build
Quiet and from all harm away
In coats of moss they were the at.
And where, each one a Crimson vest
And busily each day they wrought,
Where the weaver, foul or fair,
Grasses and little sticks they brought
And fashioned them with dainty care,
And plastered them, no nice and neat,
Until the structure was complete

And then, there followed quiet rest
From labor and the mother bird
Sat the long days within the nest
And soon one pleasant morn I heard
And the leaves, soft twittering
And fluttering of untledged wings

While, summer all dell on space
One day I seemed to add to mel,
The mother bird left her place,
Up on the shelter ng apple tree
Where I knew to parts unknown,
The tenants of that nest ha I flown

1831 THE CULTIVATOR 1882 AND Country Gentleman.

THE BEST OF THE AGRICULTURAL WEEKLIES.

Enlargement for 1882.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is the leading journal of American Agriculture in amount and practical value of contents, in extent and ability of Corresponding Staff, in quality of paper and style of publication, it deserves the FIRST RANK. It is believed to have no superior in either of the three departments of its

Farm Crops & Processes,
Horticulture & Fruit-Growing,
Live Stock and Dairying, while it also includes all minor departments of rural interest such as the Poultry Yard, Bee-Culture, Rural Science, Greenhouse and Grapery, Veterinary Medicine, Farm Questions and Answers, Fireside Reading, Domestic Economy, and a summary of the News of the Week. The MARKET REPORTS are unusually complete and much attention is paid to the Prospect of the Crops, as bearing upon the Supply and Price of all Products.—When to Buy and When to Sell. It is the aim of this department, and it is decided by its continually increasing degree, and in the best sense of the term, a LIVE AGRICULTURAL NEWSPAPER.

The Volume of the COUNTRY GENTLEMAN for 1882 will be LARGELY INCREASED in Contents by the addition of a sufficient number of pages to meet the growing demands upon its space, on the terms will continue as follows, when paid strictly in advance: $3 00 Per Year, $2 50 Four Copies $10, *one an additional copy for the year free to the Club, Ten Copies $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the Sender of the Club.

LETTER CARRIERS

All letters are delivered free by carrier when addressed to street and number. People should inform the correspondents of their places and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons having their letters sent to the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have them addressed to a number, and they will be delivered earlier than if the mail is put on the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily on foot, in supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in addition to the regular delivery.

Holders of the CARRIER'S WARNING will be open for the delivery of the mail only from 7 A. M. and from 7 to 8 P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9 A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and business of any firm upon the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (using less of whom may be seen at the Cashier's window) when order is for a large number.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer (unclaimed) will be complied with if the request is printed with the writer's name, post office and state across the left end of the envelope, on the face of it, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to use Stamped Envelopes with a printed return request as the expense is less and letters thus carried if not delivered to the persons addressed are returned to the writer without charge.

Plain envelopes of above furnished at $2 00 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamp Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. They are not Stamps, but are printed on Stamped Envelopes.

Stamped Envelopes, postal cards, in directing care required that the address.

Sufferers in the Kidneys

and Bladder Expelled—Long Suffering of one of Texas' Best People—A Lucky Man

It is by no means a strange thing that Dr Kennedy should have received the following letter by reading it you will see in one minute why James Anderson was thankful

TROY, N Y, April 6th, 1880

Dr D Kennedy, Rondout, N Y

DEAR SIR—Until within a recent date I and for several years suffered greatly from gravel, called by the doctors the Brick dust Sediment. For about a year past this sediment has not passed off in the usual quantity, but has accumulated, causing me much pain. Having heard of Kennedy's Favorite Remedy I tried it in my case, and after using about one and one half bottles I voided a stone from my kidney or bladder, about the size of an acorn, and rough on its surface. I send you the largest piece that you may see of what is coming out. Since then I have felt no pain. I now consider myself cured, and cannot express my thankfulness and gratitude for so signal a relief from a terrible disease. You have my consent to use this letter, should you wish to do so, for the benefit of other sufferers.

Yours truly,
JAMES ANDREWS

No 9 Marshal St, Troy, N Y

When we consider that the medicine will do this for one for Mr Anderson costs only one dollar a bottle it would seem that persons afflicted in the direction can afford the expense of testing its virtues.
